

Setting a new course

Rethinking health and wealth, in a post-COVID world

Asian investors believe that things will never be the same...

...and are reassessing their priorities

71% The old way of life will be forever changed.

A sense of fear will remain for a long time.

86% "Staying healthy is my top priority."

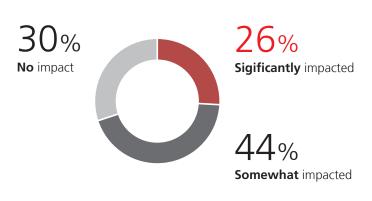

86% "I want to protect my family more."

80% "I want to spend more time with loved ones."

Many were and still are financially impacted by COVID-19...

...which has led to financial concerns

60% "I worry about not having enough saved if there is another pandemic."

55% "My retirement savings were impacted by COVID-19."

"I worry about being a 71% financial burden to my family if I get sick."

Some see the current situation as an opportunity

75%

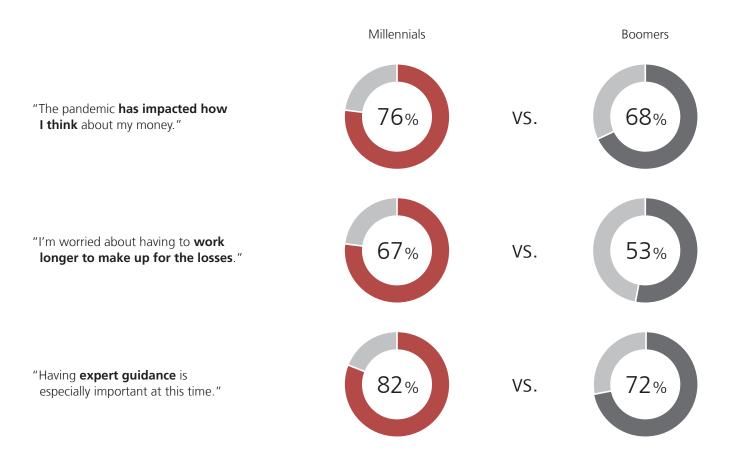

"I felt prepared to navigate the recent market volatility."

82%

"I see volatility as an opportunity."

"I plan to take advantage of the current low interest rate environment."

Younger investors were the hardest hit by COVID-19 and are keen for expert advice...

Still, they want their money to make an impact

I am highly interested in		Millennials		Boomers
	Sustainable investing	70%	VS.	60%
	Philanthropy	60%	VS.	57%

How has the pandemic changed the way you invest? Talk to your client advisor about opportunities in the current environment today.

About the survey: For this edition of UBS Investor Watch, we surveyed more than 3,750 investors. They were made up of 25 – 30 years old with at least USD 250,000 in investable assets, 31 – 39 year olds with at least USD 500,000 in investable assets, and those 40 or above with at least USD 1 million in investable assets. The global sample was split across 15 markets: Argentina, Brazil, mainland China, France, Germany, Hong Kong, Italy, Japan, Mexico, Singapore, Switzerland, Taiwan, the UAE, the UK and the US. The APAC sample consisted of 1,000 investors. The research was conducted in May 2020.

© UBS 2020. The key symbol and UBS are among the registered and unregistered trademarks of UBS. All rights reserved.