Sources of Ordinary Income Dividends—Calendar Year 2023

Most states exempt interest earned on obligations of the federal government from state and local income taxes. This may allow a portion of a fund's dividends paid to be exempt from state and local income taxes. However, the exemption requirements vary from state to state. For example, some states require that a minimum percentage, usually 50% of a fund's assets, consist of direct U.S. government securities at the end of each fiscal quarter to be exempt from state taxes. None of the funds below met this requirement for 2023. Please consult your tax advisor regarding specific state tax requirements.

The table below indicates the sources of ordinary income dividends paid by the funds during the calendar year 2023 from investments in U.S. government and agency obligations. Also included is the qualifying dividends received deduction ("DRD") percentage for corporations. Ordinary income dividends are reported on Form 1099-DIV in Box 1a. Qualified dividends are shown in Box 1b on Form 1099-DIV.

Foreign tax credit or foreign tax deduction

Your share of foreign taxes paid by PACE International Equity Investments and PACE International Emerging Markets Equity Investments are reported in Box 7 of your Form 1099-DIV.

Consult your tax advisor as to whether you qualify for the foreign tax credit or the foreign tax deduction. The foreign tax credit is reported on Form 1040, Schedule 3, line 48 and Form 1116. The foreign tax deduction is reported on Form 1040, Schedule A, line 6.

Utilize the table below for completing Form 1116.

Fund	Percentage of Income from Foreign Sources ⁴	Percentage of Qualifying Dividend Income
PACE International Equity Investments	98.63%	76.38%
PACE International Emerging Markets Equity Investments	99.89	70.66

Generally, foreign-source income passed through a mutual fund does not need to be reported on a country-by-country basis. The amount of foreign tax credit that is utilized by a shareholder may be limited due to general credit limitation rules as well as a reduction in foreign-source income associated with qualified dividend income under current law. Please refer to the instructions to Form 1116 for additional information. Please consult your tax advisor regarding the foreign tax credit or foreign tax deduction.

⁴ Apply this percentage to Box 1a on Form 1099-DIV to complete Form 1116.
